

How to Use Welcoming Parish Assessment

The assessment provided offers parish leadership some concrete, practical criteria and descriptions of how a welcoming parish looks and “feels.” It is meant to be used to assess and to educate. The statements offer ideas and possibilities for hospitality that may be unfamiliar to many. The assessment is divided into various sections representing major ministries of the parish.

Here are some ways to use the assessment in your parish:

- As a parish staff, use the assessment to identify areas of strength, areas that require improvement, and new ideas or efforts to be implemented.
- Ask the ministry leaders to complete the section for their particular ministry. Gather the ministry leaders to discuss what the parish does well and where there is room for improvement. Make a plan for improvement.
- If your parish has an established Evangelization Team or Hospitality Team, have the members complete the assessment. Use it, in close communication with ministry leaders and parish staff, as a basis for coordinating all parish welcoming and hospitality efforts.
- Invite parishioners to complete the assessment by including the assessment or portions of it, in the parish bulletin or create an online survey through Zoomerang.com. The results can be used to show the parish staff and ministry leaders the degree to which the parish is considered welcoming, as well as to challenge parishioners to consider their role in creating a welcoming and hospitable environment.

Regardless of the method you use, the important thing is to create conversation among parish leadership around the items contained in the assessment. Moreover, it is important to use these items both to affirm what is already going on in the parish and the ways that the parish already welcomes visitors, newcomers and longtime parishioners, and as a tool for planning how to make the parish a more welcoming, inviting community.

Once You Have Completed the Assessment

1. As the assessment is completed, celebrate what your parish does well.
2. Share the assessment results among parish leadership as well as parish members.
3. Collect feedback from both groups with suggestions for possible next steps.
4. Analyze and prioritize areas that require attention.
5. Make a comprehensive plan listing some “do-able” strategies for each area requiring attention.
6. Share the plan with all members of the parish.
7. Implement the plan..
8. Evaluate the efforts regularly.

Contact your regional office for assistance in administering the assessment and/or analyzing your results and gathering and developing resources and support for your hospitality efforts.

The Welcoming Parish

We all know what it feels like to be welcomed at a gathering of friends and family. Many times, however, Catholic parishes don't apply the same thoughtful attention to detail as we would if we were planning a party at home. And feeling a sense of welcome is so important in our experience of Church. Welcoming and hospitality are cornerstones in the foundation of Church. They communicate to us in tangible ways who God is in this place and how Christ reaches out to us in love and reconciliation. Indeed welcome is often the first "sacrament" we encounter in our affiliation with a parish.
